Select Poetry.

BOTH SIDES.

A man in his carriage was riding along,
A gally dressed wife by his side;
In satin and laces she looked like a queen,
And he like a king in his pride.

A wood-sawyer stood on the street as they passed,
The carriage and couple he eyed,
And said, as he worked with his saw on the log,
"I wish I was rich and could ride."

The man in the carriage remarked to his wife,
"One thing I would give if I could—
I would give all my wealth for the strength and the health
Of the man who saweth the wood."

Whose face as the morning was fair,
Went tripping along with a smile of delight,
While humming a love-breathing air.

She looked on the carriage—the lady she saw,
Arrayed in apparel so fine,
And said, in a whisper, "I wish from my heart
Those satins and laces were mine."

The lady looked out on the maid with her work,
So fair in a calico dress,
And said, "I'd relinquish position and wealth,
Her beauty and youth to possess."

Thus in this world, whatever our lot,
Our minds and our time we employ
In longing and sighing for what we have not,
Ungrateful for what we enjoy.

We welcome the pleasures for which we have sighed;
The heart has a void in it still,
Growing deeper and wider the longer we live,
That nothing but heaven can fill.

Select Miscellany.

Old Horse, You're too Late.

This is a great country for jokes, and we have just had one that is too good to keep.

Early this morning there were added to our company of travelers a pair who looked like runaways; the gentleman was a tall, raw-bone specim of the half-horse-half-alligator class, and the lady a fair match for him. Among the passengers from Napoleon is a solemn looking gentleman, who has all along been taken for a preacher. About nine o'clock last night I was conversing with the "reverend" gentleman, when a young man stepped up, and addressing him remarked, "We're going to have a wedding, and would like to have you officiate." "All right, sir," he replied, laughingly, and we stepped into the ladies' cabin, when, sure enough, the couple stood waiting. There had been some kissing games, and several mock marriages gone thro' with during the evening, and I supposed this was merely a continuation of the sport; and so thought the "preacher," who, I could see, had a good deal of humor in him, and was inclined to promote general feeling and merriment. The couple stood up before him, (a good deal more solemn than was necessary in a mock marriage, I thought,) and the "preacher" asked the necessary questions, and then, proceeding in the usual way, announced them "husband and wife." There was a good deal of fun afterward, and when it was over I left the cabin—and so did the "preacher," who remarked to me that he liked to see the young folks enjoying themselves, and took a good deal of pleasure in contributing to their fun; but did not understand why they should select him to act the preacher.

Just then some one called me aside, and the old gentleman stepped into his state-room, which was next to mine. When I returned the door stood open, and the "preacher" stood just inside, with his coat and vest off, and one boot in his hand, talking with the gentleman who played the "attendant" and who, as I came up, remarked: "Well, if that is the case it is a good joke, for they are in dead earnest, and have retired to the same state-room." The old gentleman raised both hands as he exclaimed: "Good Heavens! you don't tell me so!" and rushing just as he was, boot in hand, to the state room indicated, commenced an assault on the door as if he would batter it down, exclaiming at each lick: "For heaven's sake don't I ain't a preacher!" The whole cabin was aroused, every state room opening with a slam, when the door opened, and the Arkansas traveller, poking out his head, coolly remarked: "Old hoss you're too late!"

☞ The longer I live, the more certain I am that the great difference between men is energy—invincible determination—an honest purpose once fixed, and then death or victory. This quality will do anything that can be done in the world; and no talents, no circumstance, no opportunity, will make one man without it.—Belmont.

A HUSBAND CARED FOR.—In one of the crack hotels of Saratoga, lately, the elderly men were sitting up in the coffee or bar-rooms during the jolly hours, drinking and telling stories, when suddenly a stately lady appeared, seized her husband by the arm and walked him off to bed. The action produced quite a melancholly effect upon the others.

From the "Hand-Book of Criminal Law."

Absurdities of the Law.

A lady was coming out of the opera house, when a thief snatched at her diamond ear-ring and tore it completely from her ear, causing it to bleed. Upon her return home, she found the ring lying in the tresses of her hair. The man was tried for stealing this ring, and being found guilty by the jury, the opinion of the judges was taken whether this would be considered a sufficient taking; this opinion of the judges was afterwards delivered, in which they held that, as the ring had been entirely removed from the lady's ear, and was wholly in the possession of the prisoner, although but for an instant of time, when he lost it in her hair, the taking was complete. So, where a thief led a horse from one part of a field to another, intending to steal it, but was apprehended before he could get the horse out of the field, it was decided the taking was complete. In all these cases you will have noticed the principle upon which they have decided, is that the property must be completely severed from the possession of the owner, no matter, in each case, for how short a period of time. Two or three cases, showing what is not a sufficient taking, and then we will proceed to consider another branch of the subject. One Wilkinson put his hand into the pocket of another, seized his purse and actually succeeded in taking it out of his pocket.—However, the purse being tied by a piece of string to a bunch of keys which still remained in the person's pocket, the thief was unable to accomplish his object, and was arrested and tried for stealing the purse; but it was held that as the purse was still attached to the pocked of the owner by the string and keys, it was still in his possession, and the prisoner was entitled to be acquitted. So, where a thief went into a shop, took up some goods, intending to steal them, but before he had removed them far from the spot on which they lay, discovered they were tied to the counter by a cord; upon being tried for stealing, it was held that the property never was either completely severed from the possession of the owner, nor completely in the possession of the prisoner, and he was acquitted.

A Romantic Incident.

A correspondent of the Manchester Mirror relates an interesting incident which he says occurred in Manchester.—He states than in the fall of 1847 a young man came to the city in quest of employment. After weeks of unsuccessful search he found himself without prospect of work and considerably in debt for board. In despair he made arrangements for disposing of his clothing by auction in order to defray his expenses, when a letter was sent to him containing twenty dollars, and directing him to apply for the situation of card-stripper to the overseer of one of the corporations. The letter also requested him to sign a note of hand for the amount loaned, and to place it in a certain unoccupied box in the Post Office when it would be called for by the lender. The young man did as he was directed, and received the situation, the overseer stating that it had been procured for him by the earnest solicitation of a young lady.

Years passed away, and attempts to find his creditor was unavailing. The young man prospered in business and at length plighted his affections to an estimable young lady with whom he had accidentally become acquainted. On the day before their marriage he received a letter requesting him to call at a certain place and pay the note for twenty dollars, with interest, which he had signed some years before. Anxious to settle an indebtedness which, from the mystery of the whole affair, had occasioned many hours of unhappiness, he hastened to the place indicated, and was ushered by the domestic into a parlor, where to his infinite astonishment he discovered in the person of the unknown benefactor the lady to whom, upon the next day, he was to unite his earthly fortunes. She was awaiting him with the note in her hand. It was her first business transaction, and the partnership which followed bids fair to continue happily through life.

BENEVOLENCE OF WOMEN.—The celebrated traveler, Ledyard, paid the following handsome tribute to the female sex: "I have observed," he says, "that women in all countries are civil, obliging, tender and humane. I never addressed myself to them in the language of decency and friendship, without receiving a decent and friendly answer. With man, it has been otherwise. In wandering over the barren plains of inhospitable Denmark; through honest Sweden, and frozen Lapland; rude and churlish Finland; unprincipled Russia; and the wide-spred regions of the wandering Tartar; if hungry, wet, cold or sick, the women have ever been friendly, and uniformly so; and to add to this virtue, (so worthy the appellation of benevolence,) these actions have been performed in so free and kind a manner, that if I was dry I drank the sweetest draught; if I was hungry, ate the coarsest morsel with double relish."

Marrying for Money.

A woman, who professes so speak from experience, writes thus of marrying for money:

"I was married for money. This was ten years ago, and they have been ten years of purgatory. I have had bad luck as a wife, for my husband and I have scarcely one taste in common. He wishes to live in the country, which I hate.—I like the thermometer at seventy-five degrees, which he hates. He likes the children brought up at home, instead of at school, which I hate. I like music and wish to go to concerts, which he hates.—He likes roast pork, which I hate; and I like minced veal, which he hates. There is one thing which we both like, and is what we both can't have, though we are always trying for it—the last word. I have had bad luck as a mother; for two such huge, passionate, unmanageable boys never tormented a feeble mother since boys began. I wish I had called them both Cain. At this moment they have just been quarrelling over their marbles. Mortimer has torn off Orville's collar, and Orville has applied his colt-like heel upon Mortimer's ribs, while the baby, Zenobias, in my lap, who never sleeps more than half an hour at a time, and cries all the time she is awake, has been aroused by their din to scream in chorus. I have had bad luck as a house-keeper, for I never keep a chambermaid more than three weeks. And as to cooks, I look bewildered on the long phantasmagoria of faces flying through my kitchen, as a mariner remembers a succession of thunder-gusts and storms in the gulf of Mexico. My new chambermaid bounded into the room yesterday, flirting her dusters and muttering: "Real old maid after all!" just because I showed her a table on which I could write "slut" with my fingers in the dust. I never saw my plump, happy sisters, and then glance in the mirror at my own cadaverous; long, doleful visage, without wishing myself an old maid.—Yet half of my sex marry as I did—not for love but for fear—fear of dying old maids."

A Sister's Love.

There are no purer feelings kindled upon the altar of human affections than a sister's pure, uncontaminated love for her brother. It is unlike all other affections—so disconnected with selfish sensuality—so feminine in its developement—so dignified, and yet, withal, so fond and devoted. Nothing can altar it—nothing can suppress it. The world may revolve, and its evolutions effect changes in the fortune, in the character, and in the disposition of the brother—yet, if he wants, whose hand will so speedily stretch out as that of his sister? and if his character is maligned, whose voice will so readily swell in his advocacy? Next to a mother's unquenchable love, a sister's is pre-eminet. It rests so exclusively on the ties of consanguinity for its sustenance, it is so wholy divested of passion, and springs from such a deep recess in the human bosom, that when a sister once fondly and deeply regards her brother, that affection is blended with her existence. In the annals of crime, it is considered something anomalous to find the hand of a sister raised in anger against her brother, or her heart nurturing the seeds of envy, hatred or revenge, in regard to that brother. In all affections of woman there is a devotedness which cannot be properly appreciated by man. In these regards where the passions are not all necessary in increasing the strength of the affections, more sincere truth and pure feelings may be expected than in such as are dependent upon each other for their duration as well as their felicities. A sister's love, in this respect, is peculiarly remarkable. There is no selfish gratification in its out-pouring; it lives from the natural impulse, and personal chaims are not in the slightest degree necessary to its birth or duration.

THE TEETH.—The teeth are divided into three classes, each class fitting us for a different kind of food:—

1st. The incisors, or cutting teeth, being eight in number, four top and bottom, those of the upper jaw being larger, and falling over the under ones in closing the mouth. The office of these is for dividing and cutting the food, by bringing it between the surfaces of the sharp edges.

2nd. The canine teeth, so called from their resemblance to the dog's tooth, are placed on each side of the incisors, making two in each jaw. The intention of these teeth is to lay hold of substances, and are peculiar to all carniverous animals, and of which man is considered the most harmless.

3rd. The molars, or grinders, are ten in each jaw, and serve to fit the food for the stomach, by dividing it into minute portions, or pulp. Thus, it will be seen that Nature designed men should partake each of the foods common to the carniverous, herbivorous, and granivorous animals.—There are other teeth appearing later in life, called "wisdom teeth;" but frequently these are not to be met with at all.

A Negro Discussion About Eggs.

Geneva the lovely village on Seneca Lake, furnishes the following specimen of Parliamentary ruling:

In the fairest village of Western New York the "culled pussons," in emulation of their white brethren, formed a debating society for the purpose of improving their minds by the discussion of instructing and entertaining topics. The deliberations of the society were presided over by a venerable darkey, who performed his duties with the utmost dignity peculiar to his color. The subject for the discussion on the occasion of which we write, was—

What am de mudder ob de chickens—de hen what lay de eggs or de hen what hatch de chicks?

The question was warmly debated and many reasons pro and con were urged and combatted by the excited disputants.—Those in favor of the latter proposition were evidently in the majority, and the President made no attempt to conceal that his sympathies were with the dominant party. At length an intelligent darkey rose from the minority side, and begged leave to stato a proposition to this effect.

"Spose," said he, "dat you set one dozen duck eggs under a hen, and dey hatch, which am de mudder—de duck or de hen?"

This was a poser, was well put, and nonplussed the other side, even stangerieg the President who plainly saw the force of this argument, and had committed himself too far to yield without a struggle; so, after cogitating and scratching his wool a few minutes, a brighter idea struck him. Rising in his chair with all the conscious of superiority, he announced:

"Ducks am not before de house; chickens am de question; derfore, I rule de ducks out; and do it he did, to the complete overthrow of his opponents.

Doing it up Nice.

An intimate friend of ours who had his faults about some things as well as us, was paying his addresses to a young lady, out near Harlem, pretty stoutly. It seems that each loved pretty dear, but Sam, our friend, didn't hardly suit the old people. When it came that Sam began to show signs of ardent love, and in fact she too, the old lady intimated to the old gentleman the necessity of giving the young New Yorker a hint to go into other quarters—so when he drove up with his own fine team, hitched, knocked and came in, all things seemed right to him. Presently, all at once the father of the daughter, a shrewd, cunning farmer, walked up to Sam—

"Have you got a good horse, sir?"

"Yes, sir," he replied.

"And have you got a good barn?"

"Yes, sir, I have."

"Then," said the old gentleman, "my wife and myself advise you, to get that good horse, and that good carriage, into that good barn, as quick as possible."—The hint to go was sufficient.

THE SECRET OF BLONDIN'S SUCCESS.—A writer in the Century newspaper says the secret of Blondin's success is in his keeping the point of gravity low down. Blondin's pole is thirty-four feet long, and weighs forty-six pounds. Held below the middle of the body, it brings his centre of gravity sufficiently near to the rope to be easily controlled. A very slight elevation of one end and a corresponding depression of the other restores the balance of the body. The most perilous exploit of M. Blondin is that of carrying a man on his back. Here he runs a frightful risk, because he cannot command the nervous system of another person. To this experiment he will fall a victim, if he persists in it. The slightest trepidation of nerve in the carried body will imperil his centre of gravity, and put it out of his command, in spite of the skill with which he adjusts the weight to rest as much as possible on his hips, and as little as possible on his shoulders. Travelers over mountains are warned by their guides to sit passively on the mule, without attempting to direct the animal. This is what the man must do who rides on Blondin's back.—His own command of nerve must be equal to that of his master, or he endangers both.

AN IRISH LOVE LETTER.—"Och, Paddy, swate Paddy, if I was yer daddy, I'd kill ye wid kisses intirely; if I was yer brother, and like wis yer mother, I'd see that ye went to bed airly. To taste yer breath I'd starve me to death, and lay off me hoops all together; to joost have your arm on me waist, and larf at the manes of the weather. Dear Paddy be mine, me own swate voluntine—ye'll find me both gentle and civil; our life we will spend to an illegant ind, and care may go dance wid the divil." BRIDGET.

☞ An Irish housemaid, who was sent to call a gentleman, found him engaged in using a tooth brush. "Well, is he coming?" said the lady of the house, as the servant returned, "Yes, ma'am, directly;" was the laconic reply; "he's sharpening his teeth."

The Tonnage Tax Question.

In our last we noticed that the suit between the Commonwealth of Pa. and the Penn'a R. R. Co., to test the constitutionality of the Tonnage Tax, was about to open before Judge Pearson, at Harrisburg. The trial was concluded on Friday evening last, and on Saturday morning Judge Pearson delivered a lenghty opinion of the case, reviewing the various points presented to the Court. He remarked that the case presented new and important features, involving a large amount of money and questions involving the rights of States. He had no precedents given by any Court upon which to base his decision, and was therefore bound to declare the law as he found it. He had no doubt that it was the duty of any court of this State to declare a law unconstitutional if it should be found in conflict with the Constitution of the United States. From the Harrisburg Telegraph we copy the following extract of the concluding portion of the opinion:

The Judge remarked that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company was incorporated on the 13th of April, 1846, for the purpose of building a railroad from Harrisburg to Pittsburgh, and a burden was at that time imposed upon them that they should pay a tonnage tax upon goods carried over their road; and that after the expiration of twelve years they come now to contest the claim upon them made by the State, and the court is called to decide the constitutional power of this State. The constitutional power of this State to impose a tax upon goods carried in the State is not doubted; but the right to trammel foreign commerce is disputed. If the duties were merely imposed upon foreign goods passing through this State, it might present another question; but the burden was thrown upon the corporation alone and not upon citizens of other States. The citizens of this State, as well as those of others, were equally taxed; and it would not do at this time for the Railroad Company to come into Court and say, "we have collected the money from those who shipped goods over our road, but we won't pay it over because we deem the law imposing those duties unconstitutional." His Honor then enquired, "who can take advantage of the unconstitutionality of the law? Certainly the Railroad Company cannot; but the party paying the duties might test its constitutionality." He held the law to be a contract between the Railroad and the State to pay certain amounts for the franchises received from the Commonwealth, and hooted at the idea of the Railroad Company coming into Court and contesting this claim.—They had no defence at all on this plea; they could not come and say, in good conscience, that they had collected this money but refused to pay it over because they considered the law unconstitutional. The only party that might bring such a plea must be a citizen of another State. He did not look upon them as the agents for the State to collect this tax, but they collected it for themselves. The agent cannot say to the principal that he had collected this money but refused to pay it over.

His honor then directed the jury to return a verdict in favor of the State for the full amount claimed, with interest thereon; whereupon the jury returned a verdict against the R. R. Co., for the sum of $91,196,61, debt and interest to date.

HAND-BOOK OF THE PENN'A RAIL ROAD.—Col. Geo. B. Ayres, formerly connected with the Penn'a Rail Road, has published a Descriptive Hand-Book of the road, a copy of which is before us.—The author commences at Philadelphia and goes over the whole line of the Road, noticing every station and point of interest, and furnishing information in regard to the country and towns which must be of great interest and satisfaction to every traveler. With his book in his hand the traveler will feel as though he knew the Road and country, although he may never have seen it before. The price of the book is not attached, but we presume it is 25 cents, a small sum certainly to invest in a work which will afford so much information, as well to those who live along the line as to the stranger.

ANOTHER STATE.—The emigrants to Pike's Peak, keep politics, as well as gold, in view. Delegates to a Constitutional Convention having been chosen met on the first Monday of August, at Denver city, but shortly afterward adjourned to Auraria. After a week's session and considerable opposition among the delegates, a Constitution for the Sate of Jefferson was adopted, to be submitted to the people for adoption or rejection.

FROM AT WASHINGTON CITY.—Quite an excitement has been created at Washington City, in consequence of the Post Office Department nothing to forward an immense quantity of Republican documents franked by Hon. John Covode, under the pretence that the frank was not in Mr. Covode's hand-writing. Mr. Covode was present and acknowledged the frank, but the P. M. still refused to send the documents. Mr. Covode appealed to the P. M. General but he was attending a Cabinet meeting, and the First Assistant declined to decide until after a conference. It was subsequently decided that the documents could not go because some of them were admitted to have been franked by a clerk.

The Republicans contend that they have proofs that Judge Douglas, Mr. Florence and others, are constantly franking by their clerks, and no questions asked. All they want is for the Post Office Department to decide that Democratic members have no more priviledge of using the frank than those of the Opposition. The President and Postmaster General are already threatened with impeachment, and probably the whole Cabinet may be added to the list before December.

NEW BOOKS.—We have just received from G. G. Evans, Philadelphia, a copy of a work entisled "Italy and the War of 1859," by Julia De Margueritties, with an introduction by Dr. R. Shelton McKenzie, embelished with a map of the country and portraits of the principal officers of the armies engaged in the war. The fact that Dr. McKenzie consented to indite the introduction is sufficient to give it character as from his reputation it is not likely that he would encourage an unworthy politician. From the cursory examination we have given it we think it one of the most interesting works recently published. Price $125.

From the same publisher we hava also received a copy of a work entitled "Brown's Lectures," which is well worth the price of the book. In fact many of them are worth more than the price asked for all of them. Each purchaser, in addition to receiving one of the above books will receive a prize, worth from 25 cents up to $100. Price of the "Lectures" $1,25.

NEW PAPER.—We have received the first and second numbers of a new paper styled the Alleyhenian, published by Bolsinger & Hutchison, at Ebensburg, Cambria county. It is a neat and spicy sheet, creditable to the publishers and the town. Who the editor is does not appear, nevertheless he evinces a disposition to run his new barge afoul of the Tribune. Knowing that it is natural for conductors of new crafts to imagine them superior to those longer in the service, we are content that the new craft referred to be tested as its conductor desires. If its timbers are no more affected thereby than ours, it will pass as being sea-worthy. We wish it prosperous gales in the way of subscribers, a heavy cargo of paying advertisements and a full cabin of passengers, i e, job-work.

AGRICULTURAL STATE FAIR.—The grounds upon which the Agricultural State Fair is to be held, at Philadelphia, is now almost ready for the reception of articles and animals on exhibition. The Fair opens on Tuesday, the 27th of September, and closes on Friday, the 30th.—Excursion tickets will be issued from all stations on the line of the Pennsylvania Rail Road to persons going to the Fair, and all articles or animals intended for exhibition will be transported free of charge provided they remain unsold and are returned to the place of shipment.

☞ It seems a little strong to have on the same ticket their (the Penn'a R. R. Co's) agent (Mr. Burley, who has not been connected with the Road for eight months) for Assmbly and their lawyer (Col. Hall) for the Senate. What will the honest tax-payers of Blair county say to this?—Huntingdon Union.

Why they will say they are just as honest and true men as though they are or were the employees of the present National Administration; that unless they had been such they would not have been employed by the Penn'a R. R. Co., and that they will vote for them—if they don't take a notion to vote for their opponents.

PROMOTED.—We notice in the last number of the Juniata Sentinel, that our old friends, R. E. Parker and Squire J. P. Wharton, have been assigned positions in the staff of Maj. Gen. J. W. Crawford, with the rank of Major. The "top o' the morning to yees," Majors. May your shadows never grow less, your blushing honors be borne with becoming meekness, and may you never be called upon to go to war—because we know you wouldn't like to.

☞ Mr. B. Irvin, of Cumberland county, was, on Tuesday last, unanimously nominated as the Peoples' candidate for Senator, in the district composed of Cumberland, Perry, Juniata and Mifflin counties.

PEN AND SCISSORS.

☞ "Going in" on it—the Huntingdon papers on politics.

☞ "Coming out" on it—The Johnstowners on liquor sellers.

☞ Said to be plenty—pigeons in the vicinity of Hollidaysburg.

☞ Opened—a restaurant down stairs, by "Drum Major" Billy Smith, of Hollidaysburg.

☞ How to get the "Juniata jigs"—drink a quart of buttermilk and take a seat for an hour or so on the sunny side of a cellar door.

☞ Good—the prospects of a heavy crop of buckwheat, and consequently plenty of buckwheat cakes.

☞ Judge Taylor has accepted an invitation to deliver an address at the Cambria County Agricultural Fair.

☞ Fresh Cove Plant Oysters can be had at all times at Taylor's saloon, next door to the Bank. Call and try them.

☞ Excursions have been granted from all stations between Lewistown and Johnstown to the Blair County Fair.

☞ Just one year ago, to-day, was the great Cable Celebration. A twelve-month hence—it is quite probeble we may have another.

☞ What are you looking after, my dear! said a very affectionate mother to her daughter. The daughter looked around and thus replied: "Looking after a son-in-law for father."

☞ Never hold any one by the button or the hand, in order to be heard out; for if people are unwilling to hear you, you had better hold your tongue than them.

☞ Quite acceptable—those pigeons sent us a few evenings since. May the donors meet with the same success on every excursion that they did on the day they remembered us.

☞ Somebody entered Mr. J. Burley's cellar at Tyrone, on Saturday night week, and carried away everything in it in the eatable line, not leaving enough for breakfast on Sunday morning.

☞ For sale at this office—two scholaship warrants in the Iron City College, Pittsburgh. Any person wishing to attend that institute will find it of advantage to purchase these warrants.

☞ On Saturday week, Mr. Charles Moran resigned his entire administration of the New York and Erie Company, including his seat at the Board of Directors. His resignation was duly accepted.

☞ Almost every writer speaks of "expectation standing on tip-toe," and she seems to have been standing thus ever since the invention of letters. The wonder is that her "toe" has not long since given way.

☞ The Maj. A. J. Donelson, whom we last week noticed as having died at Louisville, is not the A. J. Donelson who was the American candidate for Vice President in 1856. So says the Louisville Journal.

☞ The celebrated magician, who has travelled the country over as the Fakir of Siva, is now pastor of one of the congregations at Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, and is known as the Rev. Dr. Haskill.

☞ A Yankee schoolmaster named Comstock turned a drove of cattle into the cornfield of a farmer in Iowa, and during the confusion which this act created in the family ran away with the farmer's daughter and married her.

☞ A negro, soon after the revolutionary war, being told of the great valor of Lord Cornwallis, replied. "King George send him ober to dis country *Corn*wallis, but General Washington git at him, and scrape de corn all off and send him back *Cob*wallis.

☞ Two ladies were chased by an old bear with two cubs, on Monday week, from Oceola to their homes about two miles from Tyrone.—Although ladies are generally partial to "hugging," we presume they had no desire to participate on this occasion.

☞ The potato crop, it is universally agreed, was never more abundant in quantity, nor finer in quality, than it is this season in every section of the Union. Thus, with plenty of wheat, corn, potatoes, and pork, we are not likely to starve, at least for a twelve-month to come.—Providence is kind!

☞ Queer Evidence—P. Yousy has been on trial for horse-stealing in Kentucky. One part of the evidence was a piece of his finger. Just before he stole the horse, his finger was taken off by the knife of a cutting-box, and a Mr. Young got possession and has kept it for more than a year. At the trial Young produced the piece of finger, and it fitted exactly.

☞ A fellow at Chicago, the other day, was found on the roof of a house "peeking" into the window of a young lady's bed-chamber.—The proprietor of the house discovered him, quietly drew a pistol and fired at him, but the young man managed to escape the shot and got away from the premises. He was subsequently arrested and fined $60 and costs.

☞ The farmers in the vicinity of Lewistown have determined on prosecuting all persons whom they can detect stealing fruit. Boys, and some men think it fun to steal fruit. It may be so, but the "fun of the thing" got a couple of boys into the "Lock up" in this place recently, and will get more of them there if they don't stop it.

☞ At a Criminal court lately, the counsel, dissatisfied at his want of success with an Irish witness, complained to the court. Here Paddy let in, with genuine Irish brogue: "An sure I'm no lawyer, yer honor, an the spalpane only wants to bother me." Lawyer Snay—"Come, will you swear you are no lawyer?" Witness—"Faix, and I do; and ye may swear the same about yerself, too, without fear of perjury."

☞ Giants about.—On Tuesday evening last a woman weighing about 350 pounds passed through this place on the Emigrant Train westward. The Fast Line Eastward, on the same evening, had on board a man dressed in U. S uniform, who measured about seven feet in height and was heavily built in proportion. Douglas, the "Little Giant" passed through westward on Monday evening.

SWINDLER ARRESTED.—The telegraph reported on Thursday last that an adroit swindler, by means of an advertisement in the Ledger, lately succeeded in getting fifteen young ladies to go to New York to take passage for the south, to become teachers there. On arriving at New York he swindled them out of all the money they had given him to pay their passage, and also all their baggage. The police have proved too much for him, as he was arrested in Washington last night. He was recoguized as Hiram P. Leslie, heretofore temporarily employed as a laborer in the Patent Office. His valise contained a large number of letters from various parts of the country, the contents of some of which show that he has traveled South, and was extensively engaged in dishonest schemes. He has a wife living in Washington. Two large trunks claimed by him are at the express office and are supposed to contain many valuables belonging to his victims. He has been committed to await the requisition of the Governor of New York. A gentleman from Toledo, Ohio, who first suspected the character of the swindler, and put the young ladies on the qui vive, says that many of the advertisements in the New York papers, are inserted at the instance of Southern libertines in quest of victims; that in such cases, the young women are outraged on their journey, or discharged in the event of successful resistance to the importunity which they encounter.

KILLED HIS WIFE WITH A STONE.—Daniel Steele, who is respected as a hard-working and frugal farmer, near Paterson, New Jersey, on the 29th ult., killed his wife in a strange but accidental manner. The hogs were in the corn, and Mr. Steele and his daughter were racing them out—the daughter handing stones to her father to throw at the intruders. Mrs. Steele saw there was difficulty in expelling the hogs, and running to the fence, near which some of the swine were approaching, she proceeded to let down the bars. Mr. Steele hearing the bars, with excitement seized a large stone, which his daughter had picked up, and quickly threw it in the direction of the noise at the fence, under the impression that it proceeded from the hogs, which he could not see through the weeds or high corn. The missile struck the unfortunate wife on the temple, from the effects of which blow she fell to the ground in an insensible state. The force of the blow on the temple had been so great that it had litterally driven out the eye. She lived only a few hours.

☞ The Rochester Union of Tuesday last, said that M De Lave would perform feats on the Genesee tightrope quit new, and which will "defy the powers of all rivals now in the field. He will walk to the center of the river, seat himself upon the rope in a chair, and take a lunch. He will tie his balancing-pole to the rope at one end and descend to the other, some 25 feet, holding the pole by his hands, and then take a drink of water in a dipper from the sheet, as it pours over the brink of the precipice. This will be a feat of daring yet unsurpassed by any performer on the tightrope."

☞ A New York mercantile house held an unsettled claim of long standing against a lame duck "out West," and hearing he was becoming "well to do," sent their claim to a Western lawyer to collect. In due time they received a reply, which effectually laid any hope they might have entertained of receiving their money. It ran in this wise:—"Gents: You will never get any spondulick out of Bill Johnson. The undersigned called upon him yesterday, and found him with nary tile; his feet upon the naked earth; and not clothes enough upon him to wad a gun!

☞ A Mr. Skaife, of England, has invented a photographic apparatus that can be carried in the hand, and which, working by means of a trigger, can be used with ease and certainty.—He calls his instrument the "Pistol Camera."

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

The Enterprising Publisher George G. Evans, No. 439 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, has just added to his extensive list, the following new Books:

THE LIFE OF COL. DAVID CROCKETT, Written by himself, comprising his early life, Hunting Adventures, Daring Deeds in Border and Indian Warfare, services under General Jackson in the Creek war, Electioneering Speeches, Career in Congress, Triumphal Tour in the Northern States, and Struggles in the Texan War of Independence, together with an Account of his Glorious Death at the Alamo.

In one 12mo. volume. Handsomely bound. Price $1,00.

We copy the following from the Philadelphia North American:—

Colonel Crockett was a character. His autobiography has been long out of print; his reputation for eccentricity has been presumed upon in the publication of all sorts of outrageous and obscene nonsense, in coarse almanacs, and other vehicles for low humor. This volume is a republication of the genuine work, with necessary additions; and will be new to the present generation of readers. It is as marked and characteristic as the subject was; his portrait faithfully drawn, and none the less so that it is without effort, and perfectly naive and sincere. We well remember the amiable original in his northern tour, and recall many of the incidents to which his book alludes. We never have looked upon his like since; and rejoice in this republication as an act of justice; to retrieve an honest man from vulgar misrepresentation.

A copy of the Book, and a handsome present will be sent by mail, post-paid, upon receipt of $1,00 for the book, and 21 cents for postage.

A new Classified Catalogue of Books and Gifts, with inducements to Agents, will be sent free, on application.

THREE PER CENT A MONTH, on the PERILS OF FAST LIVING; a warning to young men, by CHARLES BURDETT, Author of "Second Marriage," "Elliot Family," "Marion Desmond," "Never too Late," etc, etc. One volume, 12mo, cloth. Price $1,00

(From the Gazette.)

This book deserves to be singled out and noted as above the many novels which are published. Both in structure and style it is entitled to the name of art. It is a tale of Domestic Life, rehearsing the interwoven histories of a round of every day characters, and its aim is to show the follies of the too many, so called, passions and pleasures of fashionable life, touching in no part upon ground that properly belongs to the vast domain of romance.

The Bachelor Millionaire Uncle George, is a character reminding us of the Brothers Cheerybie, and although he teaches the "sweet uses of Adversity" with severe discipline, it brings out the true beauty of character, and shows how few there are who can go through the trials of everyday life, and in the end prove their constancy.

Copies of either of the above books with a handsome Gift worth from 50 cents to $100, will be sent to any person in the United States upon receipt of $1,00, and 21 cents to pay postage, by addressing the Publisher.

A new and Classified Catalogue of Books in every department of Literature, together with a list of Gifts, and every information relative to the establishment of agencies in the Gift Book business will be mailed free to any one by GEORGE G. EVANS, Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR, and nothing else, will allay inflammation at once, and make a certain cure.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR will cure the following among a great catalogue of diseases: Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Chafes, Sore Nipples, Corns, Bunions, Bruises, Sprains, Bites, Poison, Chilblains, Biles, Scrofula, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Felons, Ear Ache, Piles, Sore Eyes, Gout, Swellings, Rheumatism, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Baldness, Erysipelas, Ringworm, Barbers' Itch, Small Pox, Measles, Rash, &c., &c.

To some it may appear incredulous that so many diseases should be reached by one article; such an idea will vanish when reflection points to the fact, that the salve is a combination of ingredients, each and every one applying a perfect antidote to its opposite disorder.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR In its effects is magical, because the time is so short between disease and a permianent cure; and it is an extractor, as it draws all disease out of the affected part, leaving nature as perfect as before the injury. It is scarcely necessary to say that no house, work-shop, or manufactory should be one moment without it.

No Pain Extractor is genuine unless the box has upon it a steel plate engraving, with the name of Henry Dalley, Manufacturer.

Sold by G. W. Kessler, Altoona; George A. Jacobs, Hollidaysburg; and by all the Druggists and patent medicine dealers throughout the United States and Canadas.

Diseases of the Liver.

When the celebrated Dr. Rush declared that drunkenness was a disease, he enunciated a truth which the experience and observation of medical men is every day confirming. The many apparently insane excesses of those who indulge in the use of spirituous liquors, may be thus accounted for. The true cause of conduct, which is taken for infatuation, is very frequently a diseased state of the Liver. No organ in the human system, when deranged, produces a more frightful catalogue of diseases. And if, instead of applying remedies to the manifestations of disease, as is too often the case, physicians would prescribe with a view to the original cause, fewer deaths would result from diseases induced by a deranged state of the Liver. Three-fourths of the diseases enumerated under the head of Consumption, have their seat in a diseased Liver. Dr. M'Lane's celebrated Liver Pills, prepared by Fleming Bros., are a certain cure.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, manufactured by FLEMING BROS. of Pittsburgh, Pa. All other Vermifuges in comparison are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable drug stores. None genuine unless the signature of

A Voice From Virginia.

CAMP POINT, Surry Co., Va.

Dr. Seth S. Hance:—I was in Baltimore in April, 1854, and from a paper I received of yours was induced to buy a box of your Pills, recommended as a sovereign cure for the Epileptic Fits. At that time one of my servants had been afflicted with fits about twelve years. When reaching home, I commenced with the Pills according to directions. I do not think she has had one since. My wife, though, is somewhat inclined to believe she may have had one only. Enclosed you will find five dollars, for which you will please forward me two boxes. I suppose you can forward them by mail. Your compliance will oblige me. Yours respectfully. M. P. SLEDGE.

Dr. Hance's Epileptic Pills are also a sovereign remedy for every modification of nervous disease. The nervous sufferer, whether tormented by the acute, physical agony of neuralgia, tic doloreaux, or ordinary headache, afflicted with vague terrors, weakened by periodical fits, threatened with paralysis, borne down and dispirited by that terrible lassitude which proceeds from a lack of nervous energy, or experiencing any other pain or disability arising from the unnatural condition of the wonderful machinery which connects every member with the source of sensation, motion and thought—derives immediate benefit from the use of those pills, which at once calms, invigorates, and regulates the shattered nervous organization.

Sent, to any part of the country by mail, free of postage. Address Seth S. Hance, 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md. Price, one box, $3; two do; $5; twelve do, $24.

☞ Physicians are generally loth to speak a word in praise of what are called "patent medicines." Indeed, it is an article in the code of medical ethics, that a physician who sanctions the use of such remedies cannot be considered a member of the National Association. But there are exceptions to the most stringent rules, and many of the disciples of Esculapius have actually been compelled, by the force of facts, to recommend the use of DR. J. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, for those diseases which are particularly prevalent during the summer and fall.—They have ascertained that there are no remedies in the pharmacopia which can compare with this wonderful compound for derangement of the system. Thousands of families residing along the low grounds of the Western and Southern rivers, are now convinced that they have found a medicine peculiarly adapted for their ailments, while a other portions of the country, during the summer months, the demand for the article is equally large.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally.

DR. C. J. HIRST DEAD.—It is with feelings of deepest sorrow that we this week record the death of our late and esteemed fellow townsman, Dr. C. J. Hirst, which occurred on Thursday morning last at Galesburg, Illinois, to which place he removed about the middle of June last. He was attacked with billious fever shortly after his arrival at Galesburg, from which he never recovered, although at times he was able to be up and move from thence to Monmouth, 16 miles distant, and back. It was reported in this place, some few weeks since, that he was dead, but because we had no foundation for the report, we did not notice it, believing it false; but the letter received on Sunday morning, from his brother, Rev. Wm. Hirst, leaves no room for doubt, destroys our hopes and confirms the fears we had that such would eventually be the case. In his death his estimable wife losses one who was to her a husband in every sense of the word, and no higher tribute to his memory in this respect could be paid; his relatives a kind and affectionate companion, and the community an example of perseverance, integrity, liberality humanity, morality and all that adorns a man and makes him a useful member of society. His relatives, in this the hour of their bereavement will have the sympathy of all who enjoyed the pleasure of his acquaintance, as his demise is universally coupled with expressions of sorrow. In the midst of their affliction his friends can console themselves with the reflection that he had made suitable preparation for the change which sooner or later awaited him, and that ere long, if they too are provident as he, they shall meet him where sickness never comes, where death is no longer feared, where the pain of parting is never felt, and sorrow is unknown.

SUMMER ENDED.—The Summer of Fifty-nine is past and gone forever and we have entered upon the delightful season of the "sere and yellow af. The harvest is past—the Summer ended—the leaves of variegated hue are already making their appearance on the forest trees—and soon the voice of the "Katydid" and the light of the glow-worm will usher in the Autumnal evenings. How short the time seems since Spring was with us, so swiftly do the seasons pass! The years of human life have very aptly been compared to the degrees of longitude which shorten as we approach the poles. The ardent youth thinks the years of fearful length until he attains maturity—then they seem shorter, and increase with every subsequent period of life's journey until he exclaims, with Job, "My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle." Autumn is the most delightful season, teeming with the fruition of the year—the harvests are gathered, the fruits are ripe, and plenty abounds. It infuses a soothing and tranquilizing influence over the mind, and disposes to contemplation and gratitude.

CITIZENS' ENGINE AND HOSE COMPANY.—The zeal with which the members of this company have entered into the spirit of their work, deserves success, and if we do not have a good fire company and a good engine, it will not be the fault of those engaged in the work, but may be attributed to the short-sightedness of the property-holders of the town. The Committee appointed by the company to receive subscriptions and money for the purpose of purchasing an engine and a quantity of hose, desire that all subscribers should pay up previous to the 12th of September, and we sincerely hope the response will be instantaneous and liberal. It seems to us useless that we should here recount the advantages of having a good fire engine and company in this place, as we presume all are aware of them; therefore we will only add that now is the time to aid in securing what the nature of the buildings and the good sense of the people tells them that the town demands, viz: a means of protection in case of fire.

THE ENCAMPMENT.—From the extensive preparations now being made, and the number of companies from a distance that have signified their intention to participate therein, we believe that the encampment to be held at Tyrone, commencing on Monday week, 19th of Septemb r, will be one of the largest and best ever held in the interior of the State. There are 11 companies in this county, all of whom will be on hand, together with some 10 or 12 companies from Cambria, Clearfield and Centre. It is also expected that Capt. Hambright's company, from Lancaster, and the Duquesne Grays, of Pittsburgh, will visit the Encampment. Arrangements are now being made with an æronaut, of Lebanon, John A. Light, to have a balloon ascension on Thursday afternoon. This will add materially to the attractions of the programme. The ground selected for the encampment is well adapted to the purpose, and has been suitably prepared. The citizens of Tyrone are taking great interest in the affair, evincing that they are a public-spirited people. We hope their expectations may be fully realized.

TOBACCO FOR BOYS.—A strong writer administers a wholsome dose to the boy chewers and smokers, assuring them that tobacco has spoiled and utterly ruined thousands of boys, inducing a dangerous precocity, developing the passions, softening and weakening the bones, and greatly injuring the spinal marrow, the brain, and the whole nervous fluid. A boy who early and frequently smokes, or in any way uses large quantities of tobacco, never is known to make a man of much energy of character, and generally lacks physical and muscular, as well as mental energy. We would particularly warn boys who want to be anybody in the world, to shun tobacco as a most baneful poison.

CAMP MEETING.—The colored folks of this county will hold a Camp Meeting near Brush Run, a short distance from Hollidaysburg, commencing to-morrow (Friday). It will no doubt be well attended by whites as well as blacks. We have been requested to state that Geo. McCabe will be on hand with his omnibus to run between this place and the camp during its continuance.

A SHAME!—Our post-master, on the 1st inst., opened the "Washington Monument Contribution Box" placed in his office on the 1st ultimo, and found the enormous sum of NINETY-NINE CENTS deposited therein!—averaging about one-fifth of a mill to each inhabitant of the town! "Oh! Shame! where is thy blush!" Oh! patriotism! where hast thou flown to! Oh! Washington! did thy glorious deeds die with thee?—Are we publishing a paper to enlighten heathen—or are we talking to free-made citizens of Washington's Nation? We are really ashamed to publish the above disgraceful fact, but we beg our distant readers to exercise a little charity for our town—perhaps our people did not know there was a contribution box in the post-office—we hope they did not; and now that they have had due notice thereof, we hope to have a much better report to give of the patriotism of the citizenship of Altoona, at the end of next month. We shall see.

DEATH BY SNAKE-BITE.—We learn that on Thursday of last week, about one o'clock, a little boy of six years—son of John Weaver, who lives about two miles above Bald Eagle Furnace—followed a cat to the lower end of the garden, when a rattlesnake bit him eleven times, just below the knee. Another little brother called to his father, who was at some distance, that his brother was bitten by a snake. The father ran, picked up the child and put some clay on the wounds, for they were bleeding profusely; he then carried it to the house, but before reaching the house, the child became deathly sick, vomited copiously, and was soon entirely helpless. A physician was sent for, but about nine o'clock the next morning, death put an end to the little fellow's sufferings. It is thought that the fangs of the snake had struck a leading artery, which carried the poison throughout the child's entire system at once, so that nothing could be done for him when the physician arrived.—Star.

CHILD DROWNED.—On Friday afternoon last, a little boy, aged about two years, son of John Welsh, living on Branch street, East Altoona, wandered out of the house, while his mother was doing something up stairs, and went to a well in the yard, on which there was a loose board. As soon as the mother came down stairs and missed the child she made search for him, and discovering that the well-board had been shifted she rushed to the spot, only to find her fears realized. The child had fallen in and was drowned. The water being near the top of the well she reached in and pulled him out and gave the alarm to the neighbors, a number of whom came in immediately and endeavored to resuscitate the child, but it was too late—the vital spark had fled. Mr. Welsh is a brakesman on one of the freight trains on the Penn'a Railroad and was from home at the time. An inquest was held by Coroner Fox and a verdict in accordance with the above returned.

BOYS IN TROUBLE.—On Sunday last, a number of boys of this place feloniously entered the orchard of Mr. Bell, residing over the hill, and carried away a quantity of apples. Excursions of this kind having become rather numerous, Mr. Bell concluded to enforce the law, made and provided for such cases, and make an example of the lads which would be a warning to others. Accordingly he had a warrant issued for their arrest, and placed in the hands of Constable Ely who succeeded in nabbing two of the boys on Monday evening and conveying them before Esquire Cherry, who imposed a fine on each and then let them off. The Constable has no doubt caught the others ere this and made them settle up There are a number of bad boys about this place who need a touch of the law, and we are glad to know that they are about to receive it.

OPENING OF THE SCHOOLS.—On Monday last the public schools in this place were opened under the supervision of the teachers heretofore announced. As a matter of course there was considerable confusion among the "young 'uns" in gathering up books, &c, and many wry faces were made as the command to "potter off" was issued by the parents. We can easily imagine the feelings of the juveniles who are thus deprived of the sports which they were enjoying during the holidays. Once we dreaded the words "school commences to-day," and would gladly have escaped to a land where there were no schools. Now, however, our only regret is that we did not gladly welcome the sound and make better use of our time; and so it will be with those who are now enjoying a privilege, the most to be prized on earth, that of obtaining a good education.

☞ It is seldom that a drunk man is seen in our streets, consequently the boys consider it almost a treat to come across some unfortunate individual who has imbibed sufficiently to bring him within their reach to torment. Passing up street the other evening, we observed quite a crowd collected in the neighborhood of the R. R. ticket office, in the centre of which was a wretched looking being who had taken on such a heavy load of tangle-foot whiskey that he could not navigate, and the boys were enjoying the delectable sport of letting him "drap" heavily on his posterior at every opportunity. It was no doubt fun for the boys, but hard on the dilapidated individual's corduroys. Seriously, we could not but think that boys who would thus impose on an unfortunate man were as much deserving of a place in the "Lock-Up" as he whom they tormented

NEW BOOK, STATIONERY AND PERIODICAL STORE.—A new store of the above description has been opened one door below the Post Office, in the upper room of Brant's Building, by Mr. J. Cameron, where may be had at all times, the latest daily papers together with all the popular weekly and monthly publications of the country. Also, school books of all kinds and stationery suitably for all purposes. Give the new establishment a call and examine for yourselves.—See advertisement.

VISITED US.—We acknowledge a visit from our respected cotemporary of the Blairsville Record, James F. Campbell, Esq., who dropped into our sanctum on Saturday last. Jeames is a clever fellow, prints a good paper, and we hope makes plenty of money.

ANOTHER BEAUTIFUL SIGHT.—On Thursday night last, between the hours of 12 and 4 o'clock, we are informed that a phenomenon, similar to that which we noticed under the head of the "Aurora Borealis" last week, only much brighter and more beautiful, was to be seen.—The cause of these displays, if we may so style them, as yet remains unexplained; if, indeed, they ever can be. In them philosophers and astronomers will find subject matter for investigation. That they effect the temperature of the atmosphere is now fully demonstrated, hence we infer that electricity produces the phenomenon; but the wherefore of its assuming the appearance it has on the two occasions referred to, and its appearing at particular times, is wo think, the mystery.

CONTEMPT OF COURT.—A man named Meloy, who was an important witness for the Commonwealth in several liquor cases which came up at last Court in this county, but who was non est when his name was called, was brought up at the adjourned Court on the 24th ult., on attachment, and fined $20 and costs, and ordered into the custody of the sheriff until the sentence be complied with. The Judge intimated that his straightened circumstances had this time secured him a moderate punishment, but that a fine of three times that amount would be imposed in like cases in future. The Pittsburgh Chronicle in remarking on this case says:—"Judge Taylor is not a man to be trifled with, and if there were more courts like his in the State, there would be fewer rascals."

TRAVEL ON THE P. R. R.—For some time past the trains on the Penn'a Rail Road have been carrying a greatly increased number of passengers, rendering the addition of another car necessary. On Wednesday morning of last week there were eight cars in the Express Train West, and all crowded. The certainty of making connections, the safety and the excellent accommodations the Penn'a Central guarantees to travelers, is gradually drawing the travel from its rivals, none of whom can ever hope to successfully compete with it in any of these particulars. The traveler, who is not interested in the success of any of the rival lines, who once passes over the Penn'a Central will be sure to praise and patronize it ever afterwards.

NEW RESTAURANT.—We are pleased to inform our readers, that Wm. B. Smith, of Hollidaysburg, has opened a new restaurant in the basement of J. & J. Lowther's building. Mr. Smith, as a caterer to the sense of taste, bears a reputation unsurpassed by any other follower of his profession in the Country—we speak by the book; for many a meal, fit for a King, has it been our pleasure to devour at his table. He intends serving up, besides Oysters, all the little delicacies which the season furnishes, and the wants of the people demand. In fine he determines to keep such a Restaurant as Altoona never knew or heard of. Call and see him.

☞ A competent authority says that those little black headed eruptions of lymph in the pores of the skin upon the face, which are vulgarly known as "flesh-worms," and which are so troublesome to many people, may be got rid of, and prevented from returning, by washing with tepid water, by proper friction with a towel, and by the application of a little cold cream. The longer these little corks are permitted to remain in the skin, the more firmly they become fixed; and after a time when they lose their moisture, they are converted into little bony spines, as dense as bristles, and having much of that character.

TOMATOES.—Mr. John Rutherford requests us to inform the citizens of Altoona that he has a large stock of the largest and best tomatoes ever raised in this part of the country, which are now fast ripening and ready for market.—He will leave them at the houses of those who order from him. Those who can not see him will be supplied by leaving their orders at J. & J. Lowther's, Henry Bell's or at John Lehr's, at which places he will deposit them for sale.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, September 6, 1859.

MESSRS EDITORS:—The Public Schools of this place opened on yesterday (Monday.) The children, who have been enjoying a season of holiday, will now have to shoulder their satchels and travel to the school-room. As I listened to the old school bell, yesterday my mind ran back to my by-gone school days, and I thought with what a heavy heart I took my books in hand to go to school, after enjoying a holiday during the summer months. No doubt some of the children, wended their way to the school yesterday, with regret, whilst others went with very happy hearts. May we not hope that the children will now improve the high privileges which they enjoy, as regards education.

A very pleasant Sabbath School pic-nic came off on Saturday last, in the locality known as "Pole-cat-Hollow," situated in Allegheny township. The devotional and intellectual exercises were conducted by Revs. Dosh and Junkin, and consisted of hymns, addresses and prayer. The repast, which was ample, was composed of the richest and most excellent "good things." All appeared delighted and well satisfied with the joyous manner in which they had spent the day.

As "mair" stories appear to be in the rage, I will give a short one. On Sunday last, two young lads of this place, while in the neighborhood of the Reservoir killed a water-snake, which measured about three feet in length.—After killing it, they opened it and found within it thirty-five small one, each measuring about 10 or 12 inches in length. I do not vouch for the truth of this story.

The lecture of the Rev. D. J. Yerkes, before the Washingtonian Society, on Tuesday evening last, was one of the most able and elegant addresses on the subject of Temperance, to which we have ever listened. He was listened to by a large ad respectable audience, with great attention. The vice of Intemperance was fully pictured to the minds of his audience—the many woes and sufferings which it has caused—the bright and charming intellects it has brought low, and the fatal appetite by which it ensnares its victims. He closed with an appeal to the Christian professors in regard to the duty which they owe to their fellow-men who are the slaves of Intemperance.

The Centre Association, connected with the Baptist Denomination, assembled in the Baptist Church of this place, on Wednesday last. The session continued until Thursday evening. A large number of delegates were in attendance and the proceedings of the Association were characterized by the utmost harmony and brotherly feeling. W.

EXCHANGE HOTEL.—THE SUBSCRIBER would respectfully inform the public that he has recently refitted the above Hotel, and is now prepared to accommodate his friends and former patrons in a comfortable manner, and he will spare no pains in making it an agreeable home for all sojourners. His Table will always be luxuriously supplied from the markets of the country and cities, and his Bar filled with liquors of choice brands. His charges are as reasonable as those of any other Hotel in the place, and he feels satisfied they can not be complained of by those who favor him with their custom. Expecting to receive a share of public patronage, and fully intending to deserve it, he throws open his house to the public and invites a trial.
I have just received a stock of No. 1 French Brandy, for medicinal purposes.
Also a large stock of excellent Wines, for medicinal purposes, together with a lot of the best old Rye Whiskey to be found in the country.

JACOB SNYDER, TAILOR,
The Hero of One Hundred Fits per Month!
I would respectfully set forth my claim to public attention, as a Fashionable Tailor as follows:
Because I keep an excellent assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings and Trimmings, which, when examined, always please.
Because my work is made up in a manner that takes down the country and gives all my customers a city appearance.
Because I am not inferior as a Cutter to the best to be found anywhere.
Because long experience in my business gives me entire control over it and I am not dependant upon any one to lift me out of the suds.
Because I am still on the sunny side of forty, and therefore my taste as a Cutter and workman unimpaired.
Call on me, in the corner room of the "Brant House." Give me a trial and you will go away pleased.

BOERHAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS

THE CELEBRATED HOLLAND REMEDY FOR DYSPEPSIA,
DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND
FEVER AND AGUE,
And the various affections consequent upon a disordered
STOMACH OR LIVER.
Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.
This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave: Because of its great success in the most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medical virtues must be acknowledged.
It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new hopes and vigor in the system.
CAUTION.—The great popularity of this delightful remedy has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

It is a fact that, at some period, every member of the human family is subject to disease or disturbance of the bodily functions; but, with the aid of a good tonic and the exercise of plain common sense, they may be able so to regulate the system as to secure permanent health. In order to accomplish this desired object, the true course to pursue is certainly that which will produce a natural state of things at the least hazard of vital strength and life. For this purpose, Dr. Hostetter has introduced to this country a preparation bearing his name, which is not a new medicine, but one that has been tried for years, giving satisfaction to all who have used it. The Bitters operate powerfully upon the stomach, bowels, and liver, restoring them to a healthy and vigorous action, and thus, by the simple process of strengthening nature, enable the system to triumph over disease.

For the cure of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, or any Bilious Complaints, arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c., these Bitters have no equal.

Diarrhœa, dysentery or flux, so generally contracted by new settlers, and caused principally by the change of water and diet, will be speedily regulated by a brief use of this preparation. Dyspepsia, a disease which is probably more prevalent, in all its various forms, than any other, and the cause of which may always be attributed to derangements of the digestive organs, can be cured without fail by using HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, as per directions on the bottle. For this disease every physician will recommend Bitters of some kind; then why not use an article known to be infallible? All nations have their Bitters, as a preventive of disease and strengthener of the system in general; and among them all there is not to be found a more healthy people than the Germans, from whom this preparation emanated, based upon scientific experiments which have tended to prove the value of this great preparation in the scale of medical science.

FEVER AND AGUE.—This trying and provoking disease, which fixes its relentless grasp on the body of man, reducing him to a mere shadow in a short time, and rendering him physically and mentally useless, can be driven from the body by the use of HOSTETTER'S RENOWNED BITTERS. Further, none of the above-stated diseases can be contracted, even in exposed situations, if the Bitters are used as per directions. And as they neither create nausea nor offend the palate, and render unnecessary any change of diet or interruption of ordinary pursuits, but promote sound sleep and healthy digestion, the complaint is removed as speedily as is consistent with the production of a thorough and permanent cure.

For Persons in Advanced Years, who are suffering from an enfeebled constitution and infirm body, these Bitters are invaluable as a restorative of strength and vigor, and need only be tried to be appreciated. And to a mother while nursing these Bitters are indispensable, especially where the mother's nourishment is inadequate to the demands of the child, consequently her strength must yield, and here it is where a good tonic, such as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is needed to impart temporary strength and vigor to the system. Ladies should by all means try this remedy for all cases of debility, and, before so doing, should ask their physician, who, if he is acquainted with the virtue of the Bitters, will recommend their use in all cases of weakness.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the label.

☞ Prepared and sold by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa., and sold by all druggists, grocers, and dealers generally throughout the United States, Canada, South America, and Germany.

☞ Sold by G W Kessler and A Roush, Altoona; G A Jacobs, J K Patton and W G Murray, Hollidaysburg; and S Berlin, Tyrone. [Aug. 25, 1859-1y

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL SALVE.
Read the following Certificates to the Efficacy of this Medicine in Inflammatory Diseases.

"For the last twelve years I have been more or less troubled with Rheumatism, commencing early in the Spring, and lasting until about October set in, when I would be relieved for a while, only to be attacked again in the Spring. All my joints would swell and be very sore, attended with the most acute pain. My feet, shoulders, arms, and hands troubling me most, so much so that I could scarcely walk, and almost always required assistance in dressing. During this time I would try everything I could hear of, in the hope of finding a cure. I also tried several physicians, but nothing seemed to help me the least in the world. About two and a half years ago I was attacked as usual, and as usual tried everything to get rid of it, but to no purpose. I kept growing worse, and finally had to give up and stay in the house, where I was confined about four weeks. This time my feet swelled, and were so sore that I could not stand on them or get on my boots, and my hands swelled to twice their usual size. In fact, I was, to all appearances and belief, totally used up. About this time my parents, who reside in Maine, sent for me to come home. I went and after my arrival I commenced trying another remedy, hoping to be cured, but resulting the same as all others. For weeks I had not been able to dress myself or to raise my hand to my head, and suffering the most excruciating pain all the time.—One day my father came in with a paper in which was advertised Dr. Coggswell's MEDICAL SALVE, for Inflammatory Diseases only, and wanted me to read and see what I thought of it. I read and laughed at it, pronounced it a humbug, and told him that I had been humbugged enough. He kept urging me, and at last said I could but try it, and if I would write to Dr. C., giving him a description of my disease, he would pay the expense. Of course I could not refuse such an offer and sent for one box. It came in due season, but my faith was not increased, and I laughed at the idea of so small a dose doing me any good, and told my wife that I believed Dr. C. and his Salve both humbugs.—However, I commenced using it and the result was per fectly astonishing. I copid hardly realise it myself. I slept soundly all night, which I had not done for a long time, and when I awoke in the morning, strange as it may seem, I was entirely free from pain. I had then taken but one d.se, and bathed freely before going to bed. That morning I felt so well that I hardly knew how to contain myself, and went down stairs and told the folks how well I felt, and from that day to this I have not suffered one moment's pain or had an attack of my once dreaded enemy, Rheumatism. I am perfectly well and hearty, and wherever I have a chance I recommend it. A friend of mine, residing in Brooklyn, is now trying it for a bad case of neuralgic rheumatism, and so far it is working admirably.—This is a long story, but I have told all the facts, which I can bring witnesses to examine the land before purchasing. This all are expected to do. They will see land under cultivation, such is the extent of the settlement that they will no doubt, meet persons, from their own neighborhood; they will witness the improvements and can judge the character of the population. If they come with a view to settle, they should come prepared to stay a day or two and be ready to purchase, as locations cannot be held on refusal.

There are two daily trains to Philadelphia, and to all settlers who improve, the Railroad Company gives a Free Ticket for six months, and a half-price Ticket for three years.

THE TOWN OF HAMMONTON.

In connection with the agricultural settlement, a new and thriving town has naturally arisen, which presents inducements for any kind of business, particularly stores and manufactories. The Shoe business could be carried on in this place and market to good advantage, also cotton business, and manufactories of agricultural implements or Founderies for casting small articles. The improvement has been so rapid as to insure a constant and permanent increase of business. Town lots of a good size, we do not sell small ones, as it would effect the improvement of the place, can be had from $100 and upwards.

The Hammonton Farmer, a monthly literary and agricultural sheet, containing full information of Hammonton, can be obtained at 25 cents per annum.

Title indisputable—warrantee deeds given, clear of all incumbrance when money is paid. Route to the land, leave Vine street wharf, Philadelphia for Hammonton by Railroad, at 7½ A. M., or 4½ P. M. Fare 90 cents. When there inquire for Mr. Byrnes. Boarding conveniences on hand. Parties had better stop with Mr. Byrnes, a principal, until they have decided as to purchasing, as he will show them over the land in his carriage, free of expense. Letters and applications can be addressed to Landis & Byrnes, Hammonton P. O., Atlantic Co., New Jersey, or S. B. Altoona, April 28, 1859-tf. JESSE SMITH.

RED LION HOTEL,
ALTOONA, BLAIR COUNTY, PA.

This old established and popular HOTEL, located nearly opposite the place of stopping the passenger cars in Altoona, has passed into the hands of the present proprietor.—Long experience in the business warrants me in assuring the travelling public that no pains will be spared to render guests as comfortable as possible while sojourning under my roof.

The TABLE will constantly be supplied with the very best the market affords.

The BAR will be found to contain an excellent assortment of LIQUORS of all kinds, including that choice beverage LAGER BEER.

The STABLE is in charge of an excellent and experienced Ostler.

The proprietor hopes, by his long experience in the business and the facilities at his command, to make the Red Lion, in all respects, a first class Hotel. The business of the Hotel will be under my own personal supervision. A liberal share of public patronage is kindly solicited.

NEW AGRICULTURAL SETTLEMENT.—To all wanting Farms, a rare opportunity in a delightful and healthy climate 25 miles Southeast of Philadelphia, on the Camden and Atlantic Railroad New Jersey.

An old estate consisting of several thousands of acres of productive soil has been divided into Farms of various sizes to suit the purchaser. A population of some Fifteen Hundred, from various parts of the Middle States and New England have settled there the past year, improved their places, and raised excellent crops. The price of the land is at the low sum of from $15 to $20 per acre, the soil is of the best quality for the production of Wheat, Clover, Corn, Peaches, Grapes and Vegetables. IT IS CONSIDERED THE BEST FRUIT SOIL IN THE UNION. The place is perfectly secure from frosts—the destructive enemy of the farmer. Crops of grain, grass and fruit are now growing and can be seen. By examining the place itself, a correct judgment can be formed of the productiveness of the land. The terms are made easy to secure the rapid improvement of the land, which is only sold for actual improvement. The result has been, that within the past year, some three hundred houses have been erected, two mills, one steam, four stores, some forty vineyards and Peach orchards planted, and a large number of other improvements, making it a desirable and active place of business.

THE MARKET,
as the reader may perceive from its location, is the BEST IN THE UNION.

Produce bringing double the price than in locations away from the city, and more than double the price than the West. It is known that the earliest and best fruits and vegetables in this latitude come from New Jersey, and are annually exported to the extent of millions.

In locating here, the settler has many advantages. He is within a few hours ride of the great cities of New England and Middle States, he is near his old friends and associations, he is in a settled country where every improvement of comfort and civilization is at hand. He can buy every article he wants at the cheapest price, and sell his produce for the highest, (in the West this is reversed,) he has schools for his children, divine service, and will enjoy an open winter, and delightful climate, where fevers are utterly unknown. The result of the change upon those from the north, has generally been to restore them to an excellent state of health.

In the way of building and improving, lumber can be obtained at the mills at the rate of $10 to $15 per thousand. Bricks from the brick yard opened in the place, every article can be procured in the place, good carpenters are at hand, and there is no place in the Union where buildings and improvements can be made cheaper.

The reader will at once be struck with the advantages there presented, and ask himself why the property has not been taken up before. The reason is, it was never thrown in the market; and unless these statements were correct, no one would be invited to examine the land before purchasing. This all are expected to do. They will see land under cultivation, such is the extent of the settlement that they will no doubt, meet persons, from their own neighborhood; they will witness the improvements and can judge the character of the population. If they come with a view to settle, they should come prepared to stay a day or two and be ready to purchase, as locations cannot be held on refusal.

There are two daily trains to Philadelphia, and to all settlers who improve, the Railroad Company gives a Free Ticket for six months, and a half-price Ticket for three years.

THE TOWN OF HAMMONTON.

In connection with the agricultural settlement, a new and thriving town has naturally arisen, which presents inducements for any kind of business, particularly stores and manufactories. The Shoe business could be carried on in this place and market to good advantage, also cotton business, and manufactories of agricultural implements or Founderies for casting small articles. The improvement has been so rapid as to insure a constant and permanent increase of business. Town lots of a good size, we do not sell small ones, as it would effect the improvement of the place, can be had from $100 and upwards.

The Hammonton Farmer, a monthly literary and agricultural sheet, containing full information of Hammonton, can be obtained at 25 cents per annum.

Title indisputable—warrantee deeds given, clear of all incumbrance when money is paid. Route to the land, leave Vine street wharf, Philadelphia for Hammonton by Railroad, at 7½ A. M., or 4½ P. M. Fare 90 cents. When there inquire for Mr. Byrnes. Boarding conveniences on hand. Parties had better stop with Mr. Byrnes, a principal, until they have decided as to purchasing, as he will show them over the land in his carriage, free of expense. Letters and applications can be addressed to Landis & Byrnes, Hammonton P. O., Atlantic Co., New Jersey, or S. B. Coughlin, 202 South Fifth Street, Philadelphia.—Maps and information cheerfully furnished.
